

Spirituality, Religion, and Oral Health

Tuesday, November 19th – via ZOOM

12:00 – 1:00pm (ET)

RSVP

11:00 – 12:00pm (CT)

10:00-11:00am (MT)

9:00 – 10:00am (PT)

https://ucdenverdata.formstack.com/forms/nched_loyola_nove_2024

Carlos S. Smith, DDS, MDiv, FACD

Dr. Smith serves as the inaugural associate dean for inclusive excellence, ethics and community engagement at the Virginia Commonwealth University School of Dentistry. A general dentist, ethicist and ordained clergy, he is an associate professor of dental public health and policy and currently serves as president of the American Society for Dental Ethics.

Learning Objectives:

- ✧ Recognize how spirituality and religion may inform oral healthcare delivery
- ✧ Recognize how spirituality and wellness impact health and oral health
- ✧ Describe how spiritual and religious communities may serve as key locus for combating misinformation and disinformation about oral healthcare, particularly for historically marginalized populations

Dental professionals can earn 1 ADA CERP credit

University of Rochester, Eastman Institute for Oral Health is an ADA CERP Recognized Provider.

ADA CERP is a service of the American Dental Association to assist dental professionals in identifying quality providers of continuing dental education. ADA CERP does not approve or endorse individual courses or instructors, nor does it imply acceptance of credit hours by boards of dentistry. Concerns or complaints about a CE provider may be directed to the provider or to the Commission for Continuing Education Provider Recognition at ADA.org/CERP.

University of Rochester, Eastman Institute for Oral Health designates this activity for (1) continuing education credit. Course number 558.

National Collaborative on Humanities & Ethics in Dentistry

This series creates unique learning opportunities utilizing ethical analysis, arts and humanities for the advancement of the dental profession.